

Supporting all Students

TAFE NSW is Australia's leading provider of vocational education and training.

More than 500,000 enrolments occur each year across the courses we offer.

All our students are entitled to the full range of TAFE NSW support programs and services to help them realise their potential.

International
Harmony Day
March 2013

Celebrating Diversity

Harmony Day is held on 21 March each year and provides an opportunity to celebrate the cultural diversity that makes our country so unique.

TAFE NSW enrolls students from over 150 countries and celebrates Harmony Day every year.

TAFE NSW provides an environment where people can study alongside others from vastly different backgrounds, share their experiences and find new ways of reaching their goals.

What Help is Available

TAFE NSW has dedicated staff who can help you with a wide range of support services.

You can get help if you need:

- an interpreter to help you communicate in your language
- advice on courses designed to improve your English language skills
- advice about recognition of your overseas skills and qualifications
- advice on your eligibility for entry to TAFE NSW courses and any fees and charges
- extra support for English, maths, science and other vocational programs
- examination advice.

Choice of Courses

TAFE NSW offers a choice of learning styles and qualifications to suit your needs.

We offer over 1,200 nationally recognised vocational qualifications as well as higher education qualifications at Degree level.

A wide range of short courses offer professional development and career acceleration options.

Choice of Locations

Courses are offered at over 130 locations across New South Wales. There are options for you to attend a college, study at work or home as well as learn online or by distance.
